PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

To Adjourn on the 14th inst.—Bills Finally Passed—Incorporation of Allegheny County Organizations.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, April 4, 1868.

SENATE.

The Senate was not in session to-day.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House met at ten o'clock A. M.

Mr. RIDDLE, of Allegheny, called up the Senate bill incorporating the "Women's Christian Association of Pittsburgh," (establishing a temporary home for destitute women, and for the reclaiming of the depraved.) Passed finally.

Mr. WINGER, of Franklin, moved to reconsider the vote of yesterday agreeing to Mr. FORD'S motion to postpone the question of final adjournment until after the Committee of Conference on the general appropriation bill shall have been reported. After some discussion the motion was agreed to—yeas 39, nays 28.

Mr. JOSEPH'S amendment to adjourn was disagreed to—yeas 16, nays 53.

Mr. ADAIRE, of Philadelphia, moved to consider the vote just taken. He wanted to force an early report from the Appropriation Conference Committee.

Mr. FORD, of Allegheny, said he would never vote for fixing a day of adjournment until that Committee reported, and then he should want ample time to discuss the items of the Appropriation bill.

After further discussion, Mr. ADAIRE'S motion was disagreed to.

The Senate amendment fixing on the 14th day of April for final adjournment, was then concurred in—yeas 57. nays 33.

Mr. JOSEPHS, of Philadelphia, then moved to reconsider the vote just taken. Disagreed to. This was done to prevent another motion to re-consider.

The postage account of the House, for March, is $5,716.42, which was ordered to be paid.

There were over two hundred bills on the private calendar, which were nearly all passed without reading their provisions, but simply by their titles. The following bills of interest to Western Pennsylvania passed finally:

Extending the time for the payment of the enrolment tax on an act incorporating the Conoquenessing Insurance Company of Butler, approved the 15th day of February, 1858.

Incorporating the Allegheny Conference of the United Brethren in Christ.

Extending the time for paying the enrolment tax on an act incorporating the Oil Tank Improvement Company.

Incorporating the Building and Saving Association of the city of Allegheny and county of Allegheny.

Authorizing the extension of a chain or wire cable across the Allegheny river, at or near Oil Citv. for the purpose of attaching pipes for the purpose of transporting oil.

Incorporating the Petroleum Producer's Pipe Company, of Venango county.

Preventing fishing with seines or nets in Red Stone creek, Fayette county.

Authorizing the school directors of Red Stone township, Fayette county, to levy and collect a tax for bounty purposes.

Afternoon Session.—The Speaker called the House to order at two P. M., but a quorum of members was not present. A call of the House was ordered and forty-five members responded to their names.

Mr. ADAIRE, Republican, of Philadelphia, moved that the House do now adjourn. Not agreed to; yeas 12, nays 36—not a quorum voting.

Subsequently five or six members arrived, thus constituting a quorum, and the business of the House proceeded, there being some fifty-six members present.

After the passage of several unimportant bills, on a call of the yeas and nays, in was found that there was again not a quorum voting. A call of the House was ordered, and the members who were present and did not vote were ordered to do so.

Mr. MANN, Rep., of Potter, then moved that the House adjourn. Agreed to, and the House adjourned until Monday afternoon.

Republican Victory in Arkansas.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, April 4.—The Democrat this morning contained the following dispatch:

LITTLE ROCK, April 3.—The entire Republican State ticket is elected by more than 30,000 majority.

The Legislature organized yesterday. Major John U. Sarber was elected President of the Senate, and Major John G. Price, editor of the Republican, Speaker of the House. The constitutional amendment will be adopted to-day.

—Two hundred black miners in the coal pits near Richmond, Va., have struck for higher wages. While idle one of the negroes quarreled with a white man, and subsequently mysteriously disappeared. The miners swore vengeance on the whites in that neighborhood unless the missing man was produced alive, and were gathering yesterday for that purpose at the pits. Troops were sent from Richmond to preserve order, when quiet was fully restored and the negroes dispersed.

—The Kuk-lux Klan sent the following letter to Senator Wade on Friday.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Impeachment Trial—President's Speech at St. Louis—Tenure-of-Office Act and Issue of Commissions—Further Testimony—The Prosecution Closed—Adjournment until Thursday—Message Concerning the German Treaty.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 4, 1868.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

After some minor business the House attended the Senate in Committee of the Whole.

SENATE.

The Senate went into executive session in order to give the Impeachment Managers an opportunity to obtain certain executive documents.

After executive session Mr. HENDRICK'S presented a resolution adopted at a meeting of blacksmiths and machinists of Indiana, praying that eight hours be made a day's work in Government employment. Referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. THAYER presented a remonstrance from the citizens of Omaha against the passage of a bill now before the Committee of Ways and Means, providing that a tax be affixed to each cigar. Referred to Committee on Commerce.

THE PRUSSIAN TREATY.

The SPEAKER presented a message from the President in relation to the treaty with the German Powers respecting a resolution or report from the Secretary of State in relation to the negotiations and treaty with any of the German States since the first of January last. Relating to the rights of naturalized citizens, in one of the letters from Bancroft, of January 20th, he says: Count Bismarck informs me that the British Government has inquired of him as to answer of the Prussian Government on the subject of naturalization. In reply he informed them of the intention of this Government to come to an understanding with that of America. The remarks of Count Bismarck implied that the British Government is inclined to follow the example of Prussia and that the settlement of that question here will be virtually a settlement for Great Britain. Mr. Seward in a letter to Bancroft of February 13th says: I have informally suggested to the British Minister here that a proceeding in form of a mutual or common legislation in the two countries, would be more simple, and probably easier, than a formal regulation in the naturalization laws existing between us and those of the two Governments respectively, inasmuch, as there are so many other questions which urgently require settlement between the United States and Great Britain, besides of the conflicting Naturalization laws. The documents include a copy of treaty recently concluded between the United States and North German Confederation.

Mr, Bancroft in explaining the history of the negotiation says on the question of the the right of expatriation there was no discussion. It is recognized by the laws of both countries. On the question of residence as a condition of naturalization, which the mother country should respect, there existed no difference. The time of residence was a point of more delicacy. The Prussian law required an absence of ten years, ours a residence of five years. With liberality and frankness Count Bismarck declared himself willing to accept the American rule as it had received the sanction of the Administration at Washington, and had become fixed by the usage of more than three-score years and ten. Mr. Bancroft says that should the United States see fit for its own purposes as lately in the act of July 17, 1862, to concede the naturalization in a short residence, their right to do so is not impaired, but the meaning of this treaty is that they will not ask North Germany to recognize such naturalization until the adopted citizen shall have completed the term now required by their normal law.

Mr. EDMUNDS offered two amendments to the bill regulating the Court of Claims. Referred.

Mr. SHERMAN'S order relative to the ticket system for the galleries was debated until noon, when the CHIEF JUSTICE took the chair.

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

Mr. L. L. Walbridge, of St. Louis, was called to the witness stand, and testified as to the accuracy of the report made by him for the Republican, of the President's speech at St. Louis, on September 8th, 1866. The speech, as published, was then read to the Court, amid considerable amusement. Mr. BUTLER put the speech in evidence.

James A. Dean, stenographer, testified to a report he made of the same speech, and on his cross-examination by Mr. Stanbery stated that it takes from four to seven times as long to write in long as short hand, according to the speaker's rapidity of utterance. In answer to Mr. Butler he said that the President frequently repeats himself, making it easier to report his speeches. Witness thought it would be possible for a rapid long-hand writer to take the sense and substance of the President's speeches. In answer to a question by Mr. Stanbery, witness said he meant substance in accordance to reporters' own ideas.

Robert S. Chew, Chief Clerk in the State Department, gave evidence as to the manner of issuing commissions for certain officers in the Treasury and State Departments, which are prepared in the State Department. Shortly after the passage of the Tenure-of-Office act, a change was made in the form of the commissions. Witness produced the blank forms, showing in what the change consisted. Since the passage of the act, no commission has been made out in the old form.

Cross-examined—The words "To hold until removed by the President with the consent of the Senate," having not been inserted. No commission has been issued to a head of a Department which did not contain the words "To hold during the pleasure of the Senate."

Mr. BUTLER then offered a list prepared at the State Department of all the removals and appointments of Heads of Departments made since the beginning of the government, and specifying whether the Senate was in session at various dates.

Re-direct-examination—During the past thirty-four years the appointments as Assistant Secretary of State have always been made in consequence of the absence of the Secretary.

A question, from whom did the letters of authority come, was objected to by Mr. EVARTS, who maintained that proof of the authority by which appointments were made must be in writing.

After considerable parley Mr. BUTLER said the gentleman on the opposite side seemed disposed to make him talk an hour before he could close. The question being modified was authorized that the letters of authority came from the President.

Re-cross-examined—Witness did not know whether the one head of a department specified as removed while the Senate was in session, in 1800, had previously refused to resign.

Mr. BUTLER then offered extracts from the published words of John Adams, purporting to be official letters which passed between Timothy Pickering, Secretary of State, and President Adams. No objection.

The Managers then put in evidence the executive journal of the Senate for May 12th, 1800.

Mr. CREECY, appointment clerk of the Treasury Department, was sworn as to the authenticity of the letter from the President to the Secretary of the Treasury, notifying him of the suspension of Stanton and the appointment of Grant as Secrtary of War ad interim, August 12th, 1867, under the Tenure-of-Office act. On receipt of this communication it was transmitted by copies to the counsellors and auditors of the department.

After a recess of fifteen minutes, Mr. BOUTWELL called the attention of counsel to various articles explaining the appointment to office of the Postmaster General, in 1794, which is specified in the schedule as made when the Senate is in session.

Mr. BINGHAM offered in evidence Executive messages to the Senate, dated December 18th and 20th, 1867, and January 13th, 1868, in which the President gives reasons for the suspension from office of several officers; also a communication from the Secretary of State, in which the Secretary reports action under the Tenure of Office law.

Mr. BUTLER informed the Senate that the case on the part of the House of Representatives was substantially closed, although they might call a few more witnesses, whose testimony would be only cumulative.

Mr. CURTIS, on behalf of the President's counsel, made a motion that when the Court adjourn, it shall be till Thursday next, in order to afford them three working days in which to prepare their testimony. He stated that they would have much oral testimony to offer, but required time to arrange their documentary evidence.

Mr. CONNESS moved the Court adjourn until Wednesday.

Mr. JOHNSON offered an amendment making it Thursday.

Messrs. SUMNER and CAMERON endeavored to interpose remarks, but were ruled out of order.

The yeas and nays being taken, resulted thirty-seven to ten, so the Court adjourned at half-past three o'clock till Thursday.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 4, 1868.

GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA.

General Harvey H. Wells, of Alexandria, was this morning appointed Governor of Virginia, by General Schofield. He has been residing in Virginia since 1662; is from Michigan, and was a Brevet Brigadier General in the United States Army. He enters on the discharge of his duties at once.

IMPEACHMENT GOSSIP.

The interest in the impeachment trial has entirely died out. The counsel for the defense have applied for and obtained the issue of a subpœna to "Mack," of the Cincinnati Commercial, to appear as a witness in behalf of the President. It is expected he will testify to the fact that previous to the full removal of Stanton, the President defended himself against the charges of conspiracy which was then made against him, and now forms the chief point of impeachment articles. He will be used by the prosecution on the cross-examination to show that the President denounced Congress in private as well as public.

MILITARY DISTRICTS.

General Townsend has prepared a little history of all the military districts and departments created in this country for fifty years past, and this pamphlet will go into the Senete with the President's message, showing his authority for creating the Military Division of the Atlantic. The statement will show that nearly all the military districts have been created by the President in the first instance.

COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED.

The President yesterday appointed Hon. N. G. Taylor Commissioner of Indian Affairs, A. G. Boone Special Indian Agent, and George C. Storr Indian Agent, as a Commission to negotiate with the Great and Little Osage tribes.

OFFICERS SUMMONED.

WASHINGTON, April 5, 1868.

The Mayor and other elective officers of Alexandria, Va., with the exception of four of eight aldermen, have been, or will be summoned to the office of the military Commissioner of election and registration for the 8th District, to answer whether or not they can take the test oath.

The Alexandria Gazette says that the applicants for various offices soon to be made vacant are numerous, but great difficulty will be experienced in filling them from among the white residents of the city who lived here previous to the war, because nearly all of that class voted for the ordinance of secession.

NO HEADQUARTERS.

Major General Hancock has not yet announced a location for his headquarters in this city.

THE PRESIDENT'S WITNESSES.

So far not more than six witnesses have been summoned by the President's counsel in the Impeachment case.

—All the motions in the Vanderbilt suits against the Erie directors having been previously adjourned by Judge Barnard to Saturday, it was expected there would be some argument on the merits of the motions, including the proceedings on the attachments already served, were laid over to Saturday next. A motion was made to proceed in the matter of the attachment against Jay Gould and it was finally agreed that the bill of interrogatories be served upon Mr. Gould, returnable on Wednesday next, the defendant meanwhile giving bond for his appearance in five thousand dollars with two persons justifying as sureties. Upon the adjournment of the Court a writ of habeas corpus, issued by Judge Barrett, of the Court of Common Pleas, was served upon the Sheriff in Gould's case and the whole party adjourned to Chambers' Court of Common Pleas, when, after a lengthy argument in regard to the legal status of the case, Judge Barrett decided to release Gould from the custody of the Sheriff and place him in charge of an officer of the Court of Common Pleas.

—The St. Louis evening Dispatch has been purchased by Peter L. Foy and Wm. H. McHenry, and will be conducted hereafter as a Democratic paper. Mr. Foy was editor of the Democrat some years ago, and for four years preceding last May, was postmaster of that city. Mr. McHenry was, for a long time, connected in editorial capacity with the St. Louis Republican. Both are fine writers and have had a good deal of newspaper experience.

—George Black, a daring burglar and store robber, made his escape from the Penitentiary at Philadelphia, a few days ago, by bribing a keeper to let him walk in the corridor; and on Friday night Leonord Daford, John Watson and David Buck, all noted thieves, dug their way out of the Moyamensing Prison, and made their escape. The Philadelphia prisons are so full of convicts that it is impossible to watch them.

—A dispatch from Columbia, S. C. says: The Democratic State Convention has adjourned. A full State ticket was nominated, including Hon. W. D. Porter for Governor. Representatives to Congress and Delegates to the National Democratic Convention were also chosen. The whites are advised to vote, but under formal protest against the reconstruction.

—At the election in Louisville yesterday for Police Commissioners, the Democratic ticket was successful. The city also voted to purchase the wharf property extending from Ninth to Clay streets, a distance of fifteen squares. The Republicans had no candidates in the field, but supported the Independent ticket. The total vote polled is a little over nine thousand.

The Origin of the Wilmot Proviso.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Sun, referring to a statement first made public in a special dispatch of the Chronicle, that Judge Brinkerhoff, of the Ohio Supreme Court, was the real author of the "Wilmot Proviso," gives the following curious account of the origin of that measure, and the way in which it was presented to Congress:

The history of that proviso is this: In 1847 a political club met at the corner of Eighth street and Broadway to partake of a weekly dinner. The club was composed of Barnburners—Democrats opposed to the extension of slavery.

At the dinner referred to, Mr. Howe, a western member of Congress, was present. His purpose in visiting New York was to take counsel with the friends of freedom how to head off the pro-slavery Democrats. Among the members of the club present were John Van Buren, Samuel J. Tilden, John A. Kennedy, Isaac V. Fowler, And. H. Green, and other well-known freesoil Democrats.

During the consultation, John Van Buren said that the protest against the extension of slavery, introduced into Congress, was not worded right. He suggested that the exact words of Jefferson, in the famous ordinance of '83 and '87 should be used. This was agreed to.

Mr. Howe stated that it would be difficult to introduce the proviso, as the Speaker would not give the floor to any one friendly to freedom. Mr. Tilden, as the chief organizer of the movement about to be made, proposed that a stratagem should be played. It was agreed that each man composing the little body of sixteen or eighteen freesoilers in Congress should have a copy of the proviso in his pocket. Each should spring to the floor at the first chance, and shout, "Mr. Speaker." It was thought that one of them would be recognized. Mr. Tilden, with other members of the club, went to Washington to aid in carrying out the plan. At a time agreed upon the Spartan band, each with the proviso in his hand, sprang to the floor, and in concert shouted, "Mr. Speaker!" The Speaker was bewildered. He could not ignore the whole crowd. He selected Judge Wilmot as the most moderate of the party, and so the Wilmot Proviso passed into history.

It is quite probable that a draft of the proviso in the hands of Judge Brinkerhoff is preserved among his papers; but the original draft, if it exists at all, will be found among the papers of John Van Buren.

FROM JAPAN our intelligence received by way of San Francisco is to the 8th of March. The disturbances in that country have assumed a threatening character. It is announced that Satsuma and Chosin attacked the Tycoon in Osaca, and after four hours' hard fighting, the Tycoon fled to one of his ships and went to Yeddo. All the foreign legations were gutted and then burned, the ministers leaving and going to Hiogo. All foreigners have been notified to leave Hiogo, the Japanese being no longer able to protect them; they protect themselves, however, and allow no troops to go through the town. The Prince of Bozer's troops attempted to force their way, but were checked by the sailors from the men-of-war and forced to fly to the mountains. The leader of the troops has since been beheaded. An envoy from the Mikado was received by the foreign ministers, and announced to them that the new system of government was formed, by which the office of Tycoon was abolished. Satsuma and Chosin are ordered to take charge of the foreign settlements with orders given not to come into collision with foreigners. The Mickado takes charge of the government. New custom officers have been appointed for the ports, and the ministers invited to return to Osaca, but they have not yet done so. A large number of high officials have been beheaded for treachery, and many have committed hari-kari on account of the Tycoon's misfortunes. The Tycoon has been declared an outlaw, and the foreign ministers recognizing two governments. The customs are paid to the Tycoon at Yokahama and Hakodadi, and to the Mickado at Hiogo and Nangasaki.—Ledger.

A SPECIAL correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Lake Ashanghi, Abyssinia, on March 16th, says: The advance brigade of the British army, under the personal command of Major General Napier, arrived at this point on the march towards Magdala to-day. Ths difficulties of the expeditionary undertaking increase as we proceed. The country is for the most part barren and inhospitable, and the roads very bad and difficult to travel. The natives are hostile to the British. An Abyssinian chief, who is encamped on the high table land near to the troops refuses to give food to the army on any terms. This chief dares General Napier to injnre him. He sent a message to Napier saying that King Theodorus offers him a meeting. Another chief, who is friendly, tells General Napier not to believe this assertion of the hostile one. No forage can be had for the cattle. The people say that the bad chiefs have already ruined the country, and that King Theodorus despoils the territory far and wide. The desolation is universal. General Napier's headquarters force is six days' march from the fortress of Magdala.

The New Tax Bill.

The new Tax bill will not contain any provisions altering the existing rates of tax on tobacco, all reports to the contrary, notwithstanding. Whatever change may be made in the present provisions affecting the article will apply solely to the grade of manufacture, embracing stems and other refuse, which will be so framed as to prevent a large class of frauds which have long been successfully perpetrated.

It is believed in official quarters that the Committee on Ways and Means will not, in view of its action on the Whisky tax, recede in any degree on an article from which twenty-five millions of revenue is anticipated.

THE Lynchburg Virginian dislikes the Peabody educational scheme, and says: "Better let our children go uneducated and live in the woods, communing there with nature and nature's God, than to accept of instruction in schools where New England politics, philosophy and religion are to substitute in any measure the traditions of our good old State."

—The following is a correct statement of the position of candidates for the Governorship of Georgia: Gen. Meade has declared Judge Irwin as ineligible for the office of Governor, and the latter now declines to run. The Central Executive Committee of the Democratic party have recommended Gen. Gordon in his place, and Gen. Meade says that Gordon is eligible to the office. A large meeting was held at Atlanta on Saturday night, at which Gen. Gordon spoke and Judge Carbeness presided.

A LYRIC.

I.

"Alas! how easily things go wrong,—
A sigh too much, or a kiss too long,
And there follows a mist and a weeping rain,
And life is never the same again.

II.

"Alas! how hardly things go right,—
'T is hard to watch in a summer night,
For the sigh will come, and the kiss will stay,
And the summer night is a winter day."

[Beery Saturday.

CRUSHED BY HER TREAD.

BY GOETHE.

A violet in the meadow stood,
Unseen, bent down in lowlihood—
It was a darling blossom!
Soon came a shepherd maiden there,
With tripping step and blithesome air,
So fair, so fair!
And sang a carol sweet.

"Ah!" thought the violet, "for the power
To bloom as Nature's fairest flower,
But for one moment only!
To be by that dear maiden blest,
And plucked and pillowed on her breast,
Though 'twere, though 'twere
But one, one moment fleet."

The merry maiden nearer drew,
Nor saw the violet where it grew,
And cru-shed the little blossom!
It died, but it rejoiced "I die
Crushed by her tread, by her I die;
By her, by her—
Beneath her blessed feet!"

Abraham Lincoln and D'Israeli.

Mr. Goldwin Smith has written a letter to the Manchester Examiner on "The Premiership of Mr. D'Israeli." It contains one passage which will interest American readers:

"A triumph of self-raised merit is of all things the most honorable and the most salutary to a nation. Once in my life I have felt the sensation of loyalty. It was when I stood in the presence of Abraham Lincoln. But the illustrious workingman of Illinois had risen to the height on which he stood by stepping stainlessly the steep path of honor. Mr. D'Israeli has risen by a far different road. His triumph is a triumph over public morality and over the self-respect of the nation. He supplanted his rival and attained his present position, not by advocating any great principle, not by defending any great cause, not by carrying any good measure, not by doing any service to the public, but by an intrigue, dexterous, if mere falsehood can merit the name of dexterity, but as vile as any that sullies the annals of political faction. For nearly forty years Mr. D'Israeli has been in Parliament. During the whole of that time his name has not been connected with any generous sentiment, much less with anything practically conducive to the public good. Romilly and Macintosh rose to eminence by reforming the criminal law, Huskisson and Horner by improving our fiscal system, Brougham by promoting Parliamentary reform, law reform, popular education, Cobden and Bright by carrying free trade, Peel by vast administrative services and by beneficent legislation in many departments, Gladstone by services of the same kind, and by raising through his fiscal and industrial legislation the condition and the hopes of the laboring class. D'Israeli has risen by personal invective, by conspiracy, by using the arsenic which kills noble reputations."

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is appliplicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is about stationary at this point with scant seven feet in the Allegheny, and about six feet two or three inches in the Monongahela. The weather was quite cold during Saturday and Sunday; we had quite a snow storm on Saturday night, and snow was still visible on the hill tops last evening. The thermometer at 4:30 p. m. yesterday stood at 34 degrees above zero.

The Maggie Hays arrived from St. Louis on Saturday evening, and the J. N. McCullough, from Parkersburg, got in some time during the night. The Ida Rees also arrived from Oil City, and will return as usual to-morrow at 4 p. m.

The Glasgow, Capt. Johnston, is filling up steadily for the Upper Mississippi, as is also the Armadillo, Capt. D. H. Swaney, for St. Louis and Missouri river. The Emma No. 3, Capt. J. H. Mtrratta, will follow the Glasgow for the Upper Mississippi, and the Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt Robinson, will be the first boat out for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The R. C. Gray was loading at Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Saturday. The Messenger and Kate Putnam arrived there on Friday, en route from Pittsburgh to St. Louis.

The Andrew Ackley and towboat Diamond passed Louisville on Friday. The towboat Alps, en route from New Orleans to this port, passed Evansville on Friday.

The Grey Eagle arrived and departed for Parkersburg on Saturday. She had an excellent trip up, and a very respectable one down.

The Bayard will be ready to take her place in this line on Friday next. She has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and is as good as new. Capt. Asa Shepard will have command, and there is no one in the trade better or more favorably known than he is.

The J. N. McCullough is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon. Capt. Geo. D. Moore is still in command, with his brother Dean, in the office. All the boats in this line are side-wheelers, and they are all in charge of careful and experienced officers.

The towboat Sampson passed Cincinnati on Friday with a tow of ten barges loaded with oil barrels, supposed to be from Aurora, and bound for Pittsburgh.

The insurance on the Hesper, recently sunk in the Arkansas river, was all in Cincinnati offices, as follows: American, $2,500; National, $2,500; Eureka, $2,000; Merchants, $2000; total, $9,000. No wonder the Cincinnati insurance men are beginning to cry out "enough."

DUBUQUE.—The Lady Pike lay at the levee all day and took on a big load, chief of which was oats, nearly 15,000 bushels; 250 barrels of flour, the latter for New Orleans, contracted at 80c; 30 sacks of barley. This, with her 14,000 bushels wheat that she brought down, made a very pretty trip. She had besides all the passengers that she could carry.

THE BELLE LEE'S LIME BEATEN.—New Orleans to Vicksburg in 29 hours and 30 minutes by the Decter. The Louisville and New Orleans packet Dexter arrived at the wharf at six o'clock last evening, having made the run from New Orleans to this port in 29 hours and 30 minutes, thus beating the Belle Lee's fast run exactly two hours. We would say more about it, but the Dexter's officers do not wish the boat to be advertised or noticed.—Vicksburg Times 21st.

George Pierce, an old typo of Pittsburgh, but a St. Louis citizen for some years past, has embarked on the river, having secured an interest in the bar of the Bellevernon. George was for quite a number of years, connected with this office in the capacity of foreman.

The Wheeling Intelligencer, of Wednesday, says: We were told yesterday that the boilers in all tha iron works in the city have demanded an increase of one dollar per tun to their wages, and that unless their demand was complied with by their employers, they would cease to work from and after this morning. We regret exceedingly that such an occurrence should happen, as the season of the year is now upon us when our productions in iron are in great demand. We hope that some arrangement will be speedily effected mutually advantageous to the employers and the employed.

The Delaware, Nashville to Pittsburgh passed Cincinnati on Thursday heavily loaded and with her guards in a damaged condition, caused by striking both piers of the bridge, at Clarksville. Pilots—W. J. Gosney and Wm. Oakes.

Capt. Hugh Campbell, of the Mary Davage, arrived at Cincinnati on Thursday from St. Louis, having come through by rail in advance of his barges.

A late St. Louis paper says: An old gentleman, named Robert Smith, from Washington county, Pa., who, with his family, were passengers on the St. Marys, died on that boat on the 31st of March. A burial case was procured here, and it is the design of his children to take his remains to St. Joseph, Missouri, whither the family were bound.

We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Friday: The wife of Wm. Philpilot of Louisiana, fell dead on the floor of her room in Newport yesterday, probably caused by heart disease. She was to have accompanied her husband down the river on the Louisiana, which left last evening. Mrs. Phillips was the sister of Capt. Ben. F. and Frank Davidson, of this city, and had won many true-hearted friends, who will sincerely mourn her sudden and distressing death.

The Memphis Bulletin, of Tuesday, says: We regret to learn of bereavement in the family of Capt. Dick English. His aged father died yesterday morning, at his residence on Poplar street, after a prolonged and painful illness. Capt. English has the sympathies of numerous friends.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Thursday, says: Steamer Helena, in controversy and laid up for the last year, was sold at auction yesterday for $8000.

Receipts are uniformly heavy, with prospects of a heavier business westward every year hereafter, because of the rapidity with which the country west is filling up with people.

River declining here. Upper rivers declining. The Missouri is now on the list of falling rivers, although rising for some time past. Silver Cloud arrived and departed for Dubuque, loaded to her guards yesterday. The Nightingale, Lawrence, Lorena and Bellevernon left for the Ohio, expecting to fill out below.

The Belle of Alton will be ready to raise steam next Wednesday. The Mohawk and barges will arrive here on Saturday; one of the barges contains, in bond, 2600 bars railroad iron, consigned to Peoria, Illinois. The barge will be towed up by a packet of the Peoria Line from this port, at the suggestion of railroad men.

Practical engineers are sounding the river at St, Joseph for a bridge.

The river is falling above; only fifty inches water to Keokuk. The Missouri is falling at St. Joseph eight inches per day. It was rising rapidly at Omaha yesterday.

Trade to the mountains is less active, except for passengers, than last season. Insurance is 25 per cent. less than last year, and freights are 5 to 6c per pound, against 7 to 10c.

RHODE ISLAND gave a Republican majority of nearly 4,500 on Wednesday last.

WISCONSIN holds her Judicial election to-day, and is not likely to "re-act" to any disagreeable extent.

BOTH branches of the Legislature have agreed to adjourn finally on the 14th instant, that is; on Tuesday of next week,

THE REPLY of the Rev. Dr. Page to the letter of Bishop Hopkins, (published in these columns some days ago,) will appear to-morrow.

THE Meadville Republican learns that Hon. D. A. Finney, Member of Congress from the Crawford District, is now at Rome, with but little improvement in his health.

CONNECTICUT votes to-day. We do not propose to risk the misleading of our readers by predicting a Republican triumph, but cannot hesitate to say that if the Democratic ticket in that State be chosen to-day, we shall be much surprised and disappointed.

THE DREW-VANDERBILT quarrel for the control of the Erie Railway is rapidly approaching that compromise which we were led ten days ago to predict. Mr. VANDERBILT finds himself forced to make concessions, to relieve his friends from difficulty and to escape from still greater loss.

BY A LAW just passed, the old system of collecting taxes is superceded in Chester and Montgomery counties. The Treasurer of the proper county will henceforward collect all taxes for State and county purposes, visiting each district upon notice duly given, all citizens who pay up saving the usual per centage of Collectors.

MICHIGAN holds its State election to-day. The revised Constitution, also, will be decided upon by the people; the clauses prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors and providing for annual sessions of the Legislature, separately, and the residue in bulk, including negro suffrage. The result on the Constitution is doubtful.

UNTIL within the last few days the chances for the Republican Vice Presidential nomination seemed to divide about equally between WADE and COLFAX. Now, however, COLFAX appears to be gaining. A majority of the Republican members of Congress are certainly for him, and the States beyond Ohio are pretty sure to demand him by a unanimous voice.

THE ST. LOUIS newspapers predicate extravagant expectations in respect to manufactures in general and the manufacture o iron in special, npon the quality of coal found at Chester, in Illinois. We shall not be displeased to find all their hopes in that regard realized to the fullest extent. But, we conclude, from information that seems to be reliable, that while the quality of that coal is excellent, the quantity is much less than imagined.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION was held a month ago. Yet the Central Committee has not been announced, and the preliminary work of the canvass remains untouched. This wasted month of comparative repose was the most valuable of the whole season for a Chairman of the Committee who rightly understood his duties and had a mind to do it. Let there be no farther delay, but announce the Committee, and let it proceed, at once and with a will, to business.

THE Republican Nominating Convention for Allegheny county will meet June 2d, to select candidates for Senate, Assembly, District Attorney and Assistant Attorney, Controller and Commissioners. The Nominating Convention for the 22d Congressional District, (General MOORHEAD'S) will meet on the same day, and select a candidate. The Convention for the 21st Congressional District, (Mr. WILLIAMS'S,) will meet the same day and appoint Conferees to the District Convention.

The primary elections for delegates to these Conventions will be held May 30th.

OUR THANKS are due to the members of the Allegheny delegation in both branches of the Legislature for many courtesies extended to us during the session now drawing to a close. Especially are we under obligations to Messrs. GRAHAM and ERRETT of the Senate, and Mr. FORD of the House. The letters furnished us by Mr. ERRETT have been of superior excellence, and have been widely copied into other journals in various parts of the Commonwealth.

With this session Mr. GRAHAM will close his second term in the Senate. He has served with intelligence and fidelity, and made an honorable reputation of which he may well be proud.

WHOEVER has watched the course of public discussion in Great Britain—whether in Parliament, popular assemblies or the newspapers—must be satisfied that the days of the legal establishment of the English Church in Ireland, are numbered, and rapidly drawing to a close.

THE REPUBLICANS of the Fifth Congressional District of Pennsylvania held a regular Conference at Doylestown, last week, and appointed MAHLON YARDLEY and ALFRED C. HARNER delegates to the National Convention at Chicago, instructing them for GRANT and CURTIN. This is a pointed protest against the action of the State Convention.

ON SATURDAY the Governor signed three important bills, which are laws; 1. The Free Railroad Bill, as passed the second time by the Houses. 2. The bill pending for Registry of votes. 3. The bill limiting the liability in damages of Railway Companies, in case of loss of life, to $5,000, and in case of less injury to $3,000. Two rights, and one wrong.

THE JAPANESE revolution, or internal war, has ended with the abdication of the TYCOON, or temporal sovereign, and the assumption of the undivided power of the Empire by the MIKADO, or spiritual ruler. For the violence which had been offered to the foreigners at the open ports, by the adherents of the former, the most ample reparation has been made by the successful party.

CINCINNATI holds her charter election to-day, and the Republican ticket will encounter the combined opposition of the regular Democratic organization and a falsely-styled "Working Men's" party. The game which elected CARY last fall is to be played over again to-day; it may win, but our friends are not usually twice the victims of the same electioneering dodge, and will now try to give a good account of themselves.

THE STRIKE among the railway workmen at Cleveland continues, but with indications that a compromise may be agreed upon. As usual, the Democratic party hastened to avail themselves of what they hoped would prove an opportunity for political advantage, and offered to the strikers the privilege of nominating to four vacant places on the ticket of that party for the charter election of to-day. The proposition was seen through and promptly spurned by the operatives.

ALL sensational rumors from Washington to the effect that the Republican members of the Senate are so divided in opinion as to the merits of the case against the President as made out by the Managers of the Impeachment on behalf of the House, as to make their concurrence in a final judgment impracticable, may be confidently set down as without foundation. The Managers have covered very fully all the specifications brought against the President, and with a definiteness to render his conviction apparently unavoidable.

UPON the reconsideration of the Appropriation bill in the Senate, the gross sum was cut down to $3,900,000. Of this sum $1,800,000 goes to pay the interest on the State debt; leaving $2,100,000 for all other expenses. The charities at this end of the Commonwealth were all cut except the House of Refuge, Dixmont Hospital and the Western Penitentiary. The proviso that the State may be represented in the management of Dixmont proportionately to its benefactions, was retained, and the appropriation will go through on that condition. That point may be considered settled.

AN ardent admirer of Mr. E.M. STANTON recently interrogated him as to his willingness to become Mr. BUCKALEW'S successor in the Senate of the United States. He responded peremptorily: "What I want—what I must have—is rest, quiet, a chance to live with my wife and family in peace. I appreciate the kind feeling you express, but there is no office I would take." Doubtless, his incessant labors in the War Department make him long for repose; and yet we are not certain but his sense of public duty would, in the end, constrain him to accept the place, in case it should be tendered to him.

THE NEED for an efficient Registry Law has been often demonstrated in Pennsylvania; for the last time in the Senatorial contested election case, brought to a close last week. After much delay, the Legislature has passed such a law, and it will go into operation prior to the elections to be held in the autumn. It appears to be sufficiently stringent, if not entirely to prevent frauds, at least to greatly reduce them in number and scope, and this without subjecting voters to special inconvenience. Indeed, in the more populous districts, the Registry, as provided, will facilitate voting on the day of election, by superceding almost entirely the necessity for challenges and the delays consequent thereon. We trust the law will have a fair trial to start with.

A LAW has been passed to charter a company to construct a railway from Bedford to Bridgeport. The latter place is on the line of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville road, and twenty-two miles distant from Bedford. From Bedford to Baltimore, by this route, will be 214 miles against 235 by way of Huntington—a saving of 21 miles. From Bedford to Pittsburgh, by this contemplated line, the distance will be 158 miles, against 203 by way of Huntington—a saving of 45 miles. To Washington, by way of the branch, running off from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Point of Rocks, the saving will be much greater.

It is proposed to build this link without the aid of bonds. The scheme is that the property holders and business men who hold a direct interest in having the road made, shall contribute somewhat in proportion as they would be advantaged thereby, and that when this resource shall be exhausted, the county shall make a subscription to the stock. This plan has the substantial merit of healthfulness. There is no kite-flying or fashionable swindling in it. The men who are primarily to be benefitted are asked to put their hands in their pockets and help themselves. It may be the age has "progressed" so far that this plan will prove altogether antiquated.

WHAT SHALL BE HELD to constitute a nuisance is a question of vital consequence to the material interests of manufacturing centres, such as is Pittsburgh. In the case of Rhoads et al. vs. Dunbar, last year, coming up from Philadelphia, Mr. Justice READ held that whatever is offensive to the organs of sense, or shall create apprehensions of danger to life, limb or other property, is a nuisance and may be legally abated as such. If the first clause of this opinion were accepted without restriction, as the settled law of this Commonwealth, many trades and occupations would be driven out of large cities, and a very large class of manufactures would be entirely forbidden. Fortunately, however, this decision was reversed on appeal to the Supreme Court in banc, which held that no solid objection against the erection by the defendant of a planing-mill in a populous part of the city, could lie on the score of its smoke, soot, dust, noise or danger from fire. The Court held that such structures as might be intended for purposes which would be nuisances per se, for example bone-boiling or horse-boiling establishments, swine-yards and the like, could and ought to be restrained, but that in all cases the interference with health, personal comfort, rest or sleep, must be clearly shown, and the irreparable injury therefrom established. The decision closes with a paragragh which we quote:

"It is a difficult matter at times to strike the true medium between the conflicting interests and tastes of people in a densely-populated city. It requires the merchant, mechanic, manufacturer, baker, butcher, and laborer, as well as the wealthy employed or unemployed citizen, to constitute a city. They all have rights, and the only requirement of the law is, that each shall so exercise and enjoy them as to do no injury in that enjoyment, to others or the rights of others in the sense in which the law regards injury, namely: accompanied by damage."

THE PARAGUAYAN WAR.

The success of the allied forces of Brazil, Uraguay, and the Argentine Confederation, in subduing the Paraguayan fortress of Humaita, and advancing from thence to the occupation of Asuncion, the capital of the little State which has so long resisted the combined attacks of its powerful invaders, is in strong contrast to the monotony of reports of the past two years from that quarter of South America. The perseverance and superior resources of the Allies have apparently triumphed at last, and the Republic of Paraguay seems about to be extinguished as an independent sovereignty. With a population of only 1,337,000 souls and an area about equal to that of our State of Missouri, she has for three years kept at bay the combined troops of three powers representing some 10,560,000 people, and the war has been maintained with a vast prodigality of material resources, and the most profuse bloodshed on either side.

Paraguay is an interior State lying in the forks of the great river Parana. This stream flows from the point of junction through the territory of the Argentine Republic, into the La Plata and the Ocean. Brazil, availing herself in 1865 of internal dissensions in Uraguay, which adjoins both Paraguay and Brazil, intervened therein for her own aggrandizement. Paraguay, anticipating the same danger to herself, declared war against the former empire and against the usurping government which she had set up in Uraguay. The Argentine Confederation, declining to afford passage for her troops through its territory, was also attacked, and these three powers have therefore combined to crush their spirited opponent, whose territory is now likely to be absorbed in that great empire of Brazil, which aims at the entire sway of that portion of the Continent. Uraguay and the Confederation will soon be swallowed up in their turn, unless the Paraguayans again reverse the tide of events and repel the invaders, or unless the designs of Brazil are defeated by the timely withdrawal of her present allies.

THE IMPEACHMENT.

The Managers, having presented their evidence-in-chief, rested their case on Saturday, and await the development, by the President's counsel, of his defense. At this point it is proper to remark that the clear and conclusive testimony for the prosecution, its ample corroboration of the charges in the respective Articles, and the effective promptitude with which this evidence has been put in, all reflect the highest credit upon the care with which the Managers have prepared their case, and the remarkable ability and success with which the trial has thus far been conducted.

A delay until Thursday has been granted by the Senate to the counsel for the defense, who have asked this postponement in order that their preparations may be completed. They intimate that they have much oral testimony to introduce, but it is quite possible that their intentions in this respect may not be realized. On the contrary, the indications are, at this writing, that Mr. JOHNSON is to be defended, not upon any systematic exceptions to the proof which has been offered, but upon the abstract question of his guilt or innocence of impeachable offenses. All the evidence being substantially admitted, his counsel evidently will not seriously expect to rely upon any large amount of rebutting proof. They feel the effective power in that regard of the case as made by the prosecution. Their answer foreshadowed substantially the tactics which are to rule them. It is not unlikely that they may forbear anything like a general examination of witnesses. This will not preclude more or less proof to be offered in defense, on the collateral points, but, having already chosen to make the President's case one of confession and avoidance rather than a denial of facts, we may expect to see them so conducting it to its conclusion. Taking the charges as tried, with the proof already submitted, they will deny all guilty intent, and endeavor to clear the accused by arguments upon legal points and constitutional questions. It would not surprise us if this should be the sum of the real defense.

Questions of fact submitted to the judgment of that Senate can result, as they well know, in but little benefit to the accused. In arguments upon the law points, in nice distinctions, in direct assaults upon the constitutional validity of the Congressional enactments which they confess that they have disregarded, in adroit but bold assumptions as to the duty of the Executive and in plausible deductions from the political and judicial experience of the government, in which they will claim to discover precedents for the President's acts—this is the line in which his counsel will aim to reach the judicial prepossessions of Mr. CHASE, anp to bewilder and seduce a few Republican Senators into such doubts as may end in a vote for acquittal. The game will be to embarrass the Senate, by presenting questions for the decision of its presiding officer, in the hope that, if his rulings be reversed frequently by their votes, a breach can be made and widened between him and the Court, with possible advantage to the accused.

The right of the President to disregard an enactment which he deems unconstitutional, and the duty, resulting therefrom, incumbent upon the Senate, of hearing and determining that question of its constitutionality—this we apprehend to be the President's case now, and all of his case. We can feel no doubt whatever as the decision of the Senate on these points. They will hold, as to any citizen, and most of all as to the Executive, that all "laws are binding, constitutional or not, until set aside by the proper tribunal." They will deny the right, either of the Executive or of any Legislative department of the government to assume that function of the interpretation of laws which belongs only to the Judiciary. And their verdict will accord with the decision. The entire body of the Democratic Senators, including the President's son-in-law, will vote finally for his acquittal,, as upon every incidental issue, they have voted solidly in his interest. The Republican Senators, so many of whom have voted upon these interlocutory questions irrespective of party affiliations, will find no difficulty in deciding the ultimate issues with the same conscientious regard for the obligations of the judicial oath, and in making it square with the most vital interests and the most anxious hopes of the people.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE MASSACRE OF ST. BARTHOLOMEW. Preceded by a History of the Religious Wars in the reign of Charles IX. By Henry White. With illustrations. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

The revolting scenes depicted in this volume hardly seem possible, to persons living in the nineteenth century, to have ever occurred, and especially in a country of such a high grade of civilization as was supposed to exist in that kingdom. The terrible massacre is however, a matter of stern history, and will ever remain a stain upon the escutcheon of France. The massacre commenced on the 24th day of August, 1572, which is St. Bartholomew's Day, and it is estimated, that fully seventy thousand French Protestants, were ruthlessly murdered throughout the kingdom, by order of King Charles IX., and Catherine de Medicis, his mother. When the news of the massacre reached Rome, Dr. White states, cannon were fired, bells rung, bonfires lighted, and the Pope joined in the long procession which marched to the Church of St. Louis, where the Cardinal of Lorraine chanted a Te Deum. A medal was struck to commemorate the massacre, the genuineness of which, (of the Papal medal) is established by its being engraved in Bunami's Numismata Pontificum, published in Rome in 1618. In the light of revelation no system of religion requires to be established by such terrible means, nor indeed can any body of Christians be benefited by such atrocities. The fanatical spirit, of any faith, which prompts such horrible means, is of the devil. Painful as such historical records are, the graphic manner in which Dr. White has written the work, cannot be too highly commended. It is also a fit companion of Dr. Smiles' recent volume on "The Huguenots." This work appears to be fairly written and with a liberal spirit, and reflects credit upon the author for his magnanimity.

THE SMALLER HISTORY OF ENGLAND, from the earliest times to the year 1862. Edited by William Smith, LL.D. New York: Harper & Brothers. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner.

Works of this character, either for the library or for tuition, are of intrinsic merit. This new volume of the "History of England" is one of this class. The student will obtain valuable aid from the copious table of contents and index and the illustrations on wood, in the perusal and study of the work. The careful pains taking of the author, and reliable authorities consulted, make this book a valuable and welcome contribution in the world of letters. It is worthy to form a part of the smaller Student Histories in course of publication by Harper & Brothers.

CHIMNEY CORNER.—By the author of "House and Home Papers," and "Little Foxes." Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

Like all the writings of the gifted Mrs. H. B. Stowe, this is worthy of her fair name. It comprises thirteen papers on various topics, such as "Woman's Sphere," "Dress," &c. Her style is clear, exact and of picturesque beauty. She is unrivaled as a delineator of people and things. Young persons will be instructed as well as interested by its perusal. There is also a vein of religious thought that will have a happy effect upon the reader. It is elegantly printed, and reflects credit on the publishers.

THE PUPILS OF ST. JOHN THE DIVINE. By the author of "The Heir of Redclyffe." Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co., Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is the first volume of a Sunday School Library for Household reading, published by Lippincott & Co., in conjunction with Macmillan & Co., London. The peculiar teachings of St. John are rich in thought, and attract many pupils to study the grand doctrines he inculcated, and so beautifully illustrated in his writings. Miss Yonge treats not alone of the personal pupils of St. John the Divine, but also of those whom his doctrines particularly interested and influenced. The work also is written in an attractive style, and presents a chain of historical incidents, which cannot fail to interest the reader. Valuable information is also embodied of great interest to Scripture students.

ANDREAS HOFER. An Historical Novel, By Louisa Muhlbach, author of "Joseph II and his Court. Illustrated by Fay, New York: D. Appleton & Co. Pittsburgh: Henry Miner.

Anything from the pen of Mrs. Muhlbach will secure hosts of readers. The graphic, natural abandon style, and dramatic power embodied throughout all of her writings, make them popular. In this volume we have in glowing colors the excellencies of Hothe renowned Tyrolean a patriot. Eminently historical and also accurate throughout. Many regard this as the best of her works yet translated here. Doubtless it will have a large sale.

MOZART: A BIOGRAPHICAL ROMANCE. From the German of Herbert Rau. By E. R. Sill. Published by Leypold & Holt, New York. For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co., Pittsburgh.

The lover of music will find much in this book to admire. Mozart, that beautiful beau ideal of so many whose love for him amounts to enthusiasm, who will be charmed and edified. The idea of this work and its aim are embodied in the preface, to bring closer to the heart of the German people one of its noblest sons, and so to newly awaken a love, veneration and enthusiasm for Mozart and his creations, by means of the familiar and confidential steps of a romance. At the same time the higher task of the historical romance, is kept in view and wrought out, presenting a true picture of the history and social circumstances of the epoch which it represents,

THE CHARLES DICKENS EDITION.—Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by Davis, Clark & Co., Pittsburgh.

This edition we have commended before for some features that none of the other editions of the great novelist possess. Each volume is elegantly illustrated, and has a descriptive head-line, by the author, to every right-hand page, and is neatly bound in purple cloth. Six volumes have been issued, at $1,50 each. These enterprising publishers have just begun to publish a cheaper form of this edition, at 75 cents, precisely identical with the other as to print, paper, &c., but having a neat paper instead of a morrocco cloth cover. The first volume just out contains the whole of "The Pickwick."

FIVE HUNDRED POUNDS REWARD;—Published by Harper & Brothers.

Miner sends us this novel, being No. 309 of Harper's Library of Select Novels. This is a legal romance of decided merit, and is regarded by some to be better than "Ten Thousand a Year," by Warren. The scene and characters are thoroughly English

D. APPLETON & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS. We have received, through Henry Miner, "A Tale of Two Cities, and "Sketches by Boz," by Dickens. This is the cheap edition of paper covers of the great novelist's works. Also "Guy Mannering," and "Kenilworth," of the Waverly Novels, in paper covers, at twenty-five cents each. The excellencies of these publications have already been noticed. From the same gentleman we have received "Lady Alice, or the New Una," an elegantly printed, stout pamphlet of 152 pages, neatly trimmed.

T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS. Mr. W. A. Gildenfenny sends us Dickens' "Mugby Junction," and "Old Mortality," by Sir Walter Scott, cheap and printed in good sized type. Also, "The Marriage Verdict," by Alexander Dumas, and "The Base Ball Guide for 1868." The writings of Dumas are too well known to need anything more than the announcement of this work.

Rents in New York.

"Burleigh" writes from New York to the Boston Bulletn:

The great warehouses in New York, from Park Place to Canal street, are vacant. These places were built for dry goods men, and rented easily for $30,000 and $50,000 a year. Stewart, by his Tenth street store, give the keynote to the uptown movement to dry goods men. The rush is now upward. Property in Union Square has advanced 200 per cent. in 12 months. But this movement has left these immense warehouses vacant. It is a melancholy walk down Park Place, Murray and Chambers streets and their surroundings. Immense stores on all sides bear the ominous placard, "To Let," while houses are steadily going up in rent from $800 to $1,000; from $1,000 to $1,200; from $1,200 to $1,400. Landlords are not prepared to come down from $50,000 to $20,000, and even $10,000. No business that follows the dry goods trade can pay dry goods rents. Grocers and commission merchants, who alone can step into these lordly stores, pay no rents like those at present demanded. Lower New York is in the hands of second and third class traders, except that portion devoted to finance.

All up and down Broadway, below the St. Nicholas, rents for stores are coming down, and occupants are willing to sacrifice one or two thousand dollars a year to have their property taken off their hands. Yet dwellings are very scarce, and are in great demand. Rents are increasing on these, and there has not been so few houses in the market and so little proposed moving in May. Every one seems to hold on who has a house, even under the extortionate demands of landlords. Families double up. One or more families occupy a house. Rooms are rented and boarders taken rather than move. Indeed, there is no place for people to move to.

GOOD HEALTH

IS THE GREATEST OF ALL BLESSINGS,

And to preserve it is the privilege and duty of all.

DR. SARGENT'S

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC AND LIVER PILLS

Are the great severeign, speedy and sure cure of the age, for Dyspepsia, either in its mildest or worst stages, and hundreds who have long suffered under the inflictions of this most annoying and dangerous disease, have by the use of this invaluable medicine been restored to health and the enjoyment of life.

Is your Liver in a torpid condition of inaction, thereby deranging the whole system?

DR. SARGENT'S LIVER PILLS

Will speedily remove the secretions and restore it to a healthy state.

Are you troubled with loss of appetite, foul stomach, eructations of wind, sick headache and general derangement of the digestive organs?

DR. SARGENT'S LIVER PILLS

Are a sure, safe and permanent remedy, and by their mild but certain action will cleanse, renovate and reinvigorate the system.

DR. SARGENT'S LIVER PILLS stand high as one of the standard medicines of the age. For the cure of all diseases arising from a disordered state of the liver, as can be attested by the certificates of large numbers of our citizens who have been benefited and cured by their use.

These Pills can be obtained, either Plain or Sugar Coated, from all Druggists in the country.

UNIMPEACHABLE.

Indigestion—the most fruitful generator of disease, so common as not to be considered dangerous—slowly and surely saps the foundation of health, for, with impaired digestion, it is impossible for food to afford strength to the system. Dyspepsia invariably follows this disease, and dyspeptics owe all their sufferings to indigestion. Nervous and sick headache also spring from derangement of the digestive organs. Persons of sedentary habits frequently suffer from these evils, which are attended with a nervous irritability of temper, extremely unpleasant to others and a source of misery to themselves. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS has been found the safest and best means of removing all digestive obstructions, as well as bracing up the failing system. Those whose occupations are mental recognize in this preparation the perfection of medical skill, as it soothes the excited brain, headache disappears under its potent charm, and the patient rapidly regains health and strength by its restoring power. To the aged, as well as delicate ladies and children, it is admirably suited, as it possesses the quality of invigorating without excitement or reaction.

An immense amount of unimpeachable evidence can be produced to prove that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unequalled for its prompt and ever reliable action in alleviating and curing all diseases of the stomach. Its superior excellence and consequent renown is readily accounted for, from the well known fact that it is made under the personal supervision of the proprietors, in strict accordance with pharmaceutic science.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 180 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop. JOHN SCANLAN,

Coal Bluffs, Washington Co., Pa.

ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. list these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipt of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

WANTED.—AGENTS FOR THE OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR; Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results. By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS. A Book for all sections and parties.
This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.
The intense desire every where manifested to obtain this work, combined with an increased commission, makes it the best subscription book ever published.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, April 4, 1868.

Gold opened very strong at 138⅝, advanced to 138⅝, and closed firm at 138¼. The continued stringency of the money market has forced a large amount of gold on the market and induced parties to sell short to get currency. The speculation for a decline was further strengthened by the usual advance of cotton in England, which raises the value of commercial bills and prevents shipments of specie, probably, for some time. The main argument, however, for a decline of the premium is the approaching payments of Five Twenty coupons due now in about three weeks. It seems thus as if the manoeuvres of speculators last December were to be renewed in March, that is to sell short up to the day of the interest payment, and then turn and buy back and make the market advance, despite the heavy payments of coin by the Treasury.

Government bonds are firm and higher, and show what is to come next week. The national banks feeling no longer anxious to keep up a strong reserve, will lend freely on government collaterals, and thus inaugurate an advance which may carry bonds far beyond their real value, and then depreciate them again in the same proportion.

Stocks are all steady, with a trifle of an advance in some of the leading stocks.

Money was scarcer to-day than any day during the last two years, and some of the banks had all they could do to make up their statements, being unable to discount anything for the past week. There is more long paper offered on the market, which is almost unsaleable unless at very high rates. In stocks but little was done; sellers prefer to wait until the May dividends are declared and then sell, generally getting as much after the dividends as before.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 138¼; 1881 bonds, 111¼; 1862 5-20s, 109¾; 1864 do, 108⅝; 1865 do, 108¼; Consols, 106¾; 10-40s, 100⅝; 7-30s, 105⅜.

—Money continues as stringent as at any time during the pressure. Gold interest has been freely paid, and at the price was called "cheap money." Gold has been carried over night at ⅛ per cent., and on the best railway shares ¼ per cent, per day was paid, with 1¼ per cent. difference on stocks turned for 15 days. The pressure has probably reached its height, but no ease can be hoped for until statement day has passed, nor cheap money until the country banks return to the city the legal tenders required for their statements, and for the commercial payments of April 1. The experience of the past twenty days clearly proves that to the clumsy working of the "National Currency act" the current pressure can be wholly attributed. The recurrence of the quarterly statement has forced the banks into a contraction uncalled for by any weakness in the property upon which they had loaned, and demanded for no object beyond making a statement to the Treasury of very little value. The restriction upon the issue of currency was another prime cause for the recent stringency in money, Had the "National Currency act" possessed the elasticity of the State system, which allowed the increase of thoroughly secured currency, at those periods when the wants of trade demanded it, the pressure would have been avoided, Government stocks and local securities would have maintained their market price, and trade been undisturbed. The lesson has been a severe one, and should not be lost upon Congress. It should secure a currency redeemable in New York with coin or legal tenders, with the privilege given to any national bank to issue all the currency for which they can pledge 5-20s at 80 per cent., with the provision that it is redeemed in New York at sight. Commercial paper is quoted at 7 to 10 per cent., with little doing. Banks, as a rule, are as liberal to their dealers as they can be, and present a decent appearance in their quarterly statement.—New York Tribune, 3d.

Comic Music.

The Pall Mall Gazette indulges in the following severe remarks concerning comic music: "The popular music of the day is not below the notice of any one who wishes to sound the depths of vulgarity in which certain classes of our countrymen and countrywomen are not ashamed to indulge; and lately the significance of comic singing is rendered important by a sort of fashionable patronage which has been bestowed upon it. When we read in an advertisement column that 'Racketty Jack' and the 'Horseflesh Dinner' were sung by command of H. R. H., the Prince of Wales, on the 19th of February, it strikes us that there is some risk of having introduced into our drawing-rooms a kind of entertainment hitherto confined to the streets and the music halls. It is not pleasant either, for many reasons, to learn that one of the chief minstrels and representatives of 'comic talent' now goes about every night in a brougham from one place of drinking and dancing to another, and prefaces his latest effusion by a speech, in which he tells the shopmen, soldiers, servants and people from the country, who make up his audience, that if they only like his song as well as H. R. H. and a host of his noble friends he (the Comic Talent) will be quite satisfied with his reception. After this announcement a thrill of awe and expectation passes through the hall, and the people get their beer, pipes, and gin ready in order to enjoy with comfort and satisfaction a piece of dogerel sanctified by the patronage of the aristocracy.

"Of the many sins that burlesques have to answer for, their use of those degraded songs is about the worst. The level of taste which the 'Chickaleary Cove" and its brethren are made to suit is lamentable in the extreme. It makes us almost despair of educating that dense mind which requires to be stimulated in its hours of recreation, with the sordid illiferate verses in which music is mocked, sentiment turned into sickening ridicule, and impure notions not only suggested, but often made the very groundwork of the composition. It must not be forgotten that these things are peculiar products of our own times. The sweet old quavering ditties, with their thin and silly compliments, were surely better for the people than 'Champagne Charlie.' The sea songs were once the rage even in taverns. A certain national meaning and spirit pervaded them,—a certain harmless and unmeaning romance pervaded others; but the fast comic song and the fast comic singer, with his carriage and his grin, or his power of jumping and roaring choruses at the same time, were unknown. Are we becoming more vulgar in our tastes than those who baited bulls?

"Not long since we had to record an exhibition of noblemen at the Strand Theatre. A lord dancing cellar flaps and breakdowns was to be seen by those who could endure a bad imitation of the niggers whom we have also domesticated in this country. Where shall we stop, if, after this, we pet our comic singers and introduce them into quarters hitherto reserved for such artists as Grisi, Tietiens, or Patti? It is difficult indeed to say. We swallowed the 'Cancan' (slightly mitigated) easily enough; and after Royalty had seen it, it was translated to where the working classes can elevate their minds by the sight of an indecent dance. The comic singers form a pretty accompaniment to this novelty. They are not to be blamed for making money out of such tomfoolery as the public will pay to see and hear, but surely they ought not to be glorified by distinguished persons, as well as salaried by enterprising managers, who run them about in stylish broughams? The 'great' this and the 'jolly' that, if they really wish to seize the occasion ought to open an opera house of their own. There is now a capital opportunity for it, and doubtless the boxes would be bespoken almost before the place was ready. So would we English justify our claim as a musical people to France and Germany. We too have our 'female comics' to sit beside Therese. They are not yet as bold as Therese, but it will give them courage to know that their male rivals in the profession are becoming not only fashionable but popular. It would not surprise us to learn, from the way we are tending in this direction, that Belgravian sons and daughters sang 'The Eel Pie Shop' in the course of the season, with, to quote the neat and expressive language of an advertisement, 'a harmonious bow-wow chorus by all the jolly dogs.'"

Desicated Eggs.

(From Littell's Living Age.)

Mr. Charles Lamont has discovered and patented a very ingenious process for preparing eggs so that they may be kept for years without change or decay. The process consists, as described by the Chemical News, in emptying the fresh eggs from the shell into a long covered trough; a shaft, armed with a series of metallic discs about fifteen or twenty inches in diameter, is made to descend into this trough while revolving, which beats the eggs into homogeneousness, and covers the surfaces of the discs with a thin covering of egg. The discs, still revolving, are elevated from the trough, and a current of hot air passed through the covered box, which quickly dries the egg, when a series of scrapers are brought into action, so as to scrape off the egg in the form of fine thin scales or granules, which have the appearance of being crystalized. This process may be repeated ad libitum. The preparation thus obtained retains perfectly all the properties and flavor of the fresh egg, and may be used for the various purposes where broken egg is needed, and for cooking, by dissolving a little in water, and beating it as usual. One pound is equal to forty-four eggs; 100 dozen eggs, when crystalized or desicated, occupy one cubic foot. We are glad that this very useful article of diet has been added to the now long list of preserved articles of food. An enterprising company in New York have, we understand, purchased the invention, and it is now being successfully introduced into the market.

The Circle Squared.

Mr. Constant Terry, of Eagle Pass, Texas, announces that he has squared the circle. He writes to a contemporary:

"In the rule for squaring the circle arithmetically I think originated the saying, 'It is a poor rule that won't work both ways.' I find the number seven (7) to be the sum of the roots of the rule to square the circle by the square. And I yet expect to learn that it originated the mysterious seven of the Bible. In squaring the circle geometrically, I find this problem 37620, in which science says is hid the mysterious seven and three score and ten of the Bible twice told. I dedicate the pleasure of the solution of this problem to the ingenious. Therefore it is evident I am not the first person who originated these rules for squaring the circle. I think they were originated the other side of Noah's flood."

The fact that Mr. Terry incidentally remarks that the number seven is "blended" with his "advent into the world," that he knows "the state of the dead," that "the sixteenth verse of Obadiah is true," and so on, may incline some readers to doubt the value of his mathematical calculations.

—The Springfield Republican correspondent thinks Albany is a horribly wicked place. He has never stayed any length of time in Harrisburg.

South-western Peculiarities.

A Texas correspondent says: Upon arriving in this State I was impressed with the fertility of imagination displayed by the inhabitants as set forth in the names bestowed by them on their villages and towns. I immediately commenced making a list of the most popular, and I send you all that I have collected, with the assurance that I am indebted for none of them to my own imagination. Here is the list: Lick Skillet, Buck Snort, Nip and Tuck, Jimtown, Rake Pocket, Hog Eye, Fair Play, Horn Hill, Seven League, Steal Easy, Possum Trot, Flat Heel, Frog Level, Short Pone, Gourd Neck, Shake Rag, Poverty Slant, Black Ankle.

In the village of Henderson I was introduced to a buxom school girl of fourteen years, who possesses the following name: Dionysia Boadicea Jeffalinda Jacobina Christiana Buckiana Caledonia Susannah Emily Wyatt Wilkinson Moore Wynne "O Sophonisba, Sophonisba, O."

The young lady is a cousin of a young man of that village who, in the short span of his life of twenty-two, has done and suffered the following things: He has had over a hundred personal encounters; has shot mortally, three men, not mortally, eight; is now resting under seven bail bonds; has been through the war from the beginning; married, buried an infant daughter, and separated from his wife, who is now going to school; and is now living on his father's substance, in possession of a pair of fine boots, a spavined horse, a Mexican saddle, a silver watch, three revolvers and a Derringer, and one dollar in specie. All this he told me himself, with much apparent satisfaction. He expects to attend the Waco races, but does not expect to lay heavy wagers.

Another correspondent writing from an out-of-the-way neighborhood in West Virginia, says of the prevailing dialect: "Words corrupted and mispronounced, as common with the illiterate everywhere, are often very provoking. Wunct, twicet, skifft, fift, sixt, sermont, islant, beyant, reether, retch, &c., for once, twice, skiff, fifth, sixth, sermon, island, beyond, rather, reach. Cheusday for Tuesday, nary for never a or never one, mo' for more, 'lowed for supposed or believed, outen for out or out of. A well-dressed young lady heard news of a marriage of an acquaintance, and exclaimed: 'Well, if she haint done gone and done it, and never let on.'"

Ammonia as a Motive Power.

Galignani says: Visators to the Great Exhibition may recollect having seen an engine set in motion by the application of ammonia, which was exhibited in closs 53 by M. Fort, a naval engineer. This engine attracted the Emperor's attention, as well as that of the public, the saving resulting from the system being enormour. It appeared from the experiments made that a common fifteen-horse-power steam engine working fonr hours consumed two hundred and forty-seven kilogrammes of fuel, while the ammonia engine, working four hours and eighteen minutes, did not consume more than one hunpred and seven kilogrammes. The saving was, therefore, about sixty per cent. The new adparatus has moroever, tho advantag of being easily applicablo to the old boiler.

The chemical theory on which M. Fort's system rests is this: "The latent heat of the dissolution of ammonia tn water is the algebraical sum of the latent heat of liquifaction of that gas and of its heat of combination with water." The new engine, however, does not employ liquified ammoniacal gas, but a dissolution of that gas in water, and commonly known as liquid ammonia. This solution only absorbs 126 units of heat in its vaporization, while that of water absorbs 603 of these units. Moreover, common liquid ammonia boils at 50 degrees centigrade, and affords a pressure of six atmospheres at 111 degrees, while steam requires a heat of 160 degrees in order to produce the same pressure.

Nevertheless, an objection to this new system had to be removed. Ammonia will attack copper and brass with great avidity; and as many parts of a steam engine consist of brass, their speedy deteroration might be looked forward to. Fortunately, however, ammonia, the enemy of copper, is the friend of iron; that is, iron indefinitely in contact with it will be preserved from rust instead of suffering from it, and all the parts of the steam engine now made of brass may henceforth be made of iron. The escape of ammonia from the engine is not to be dreaded, because the fatty substances with which engines are greased being saponified by contact with that gas, will only make them more air-tight than before."

A CORRESPONDENT of the San Francisco Bulletin says, speaking of the laborers on the Pacific Railroad: When a Chinaman is killed the whole gang invariably quits work upon that part of the road. What secret fear or open superstition they have upon this point I could not learn. The overseers only know the fact, and do not pretend to account for it. Early last winter a snow slide overwhelmed and buried thirty out of a gang of one hundred. The rest instantly prepared to leave, not so much as offering to dig out their brethren, who might possibly be still living beneath the snow. This the white overseer, a resolute fellow, would not permit, but, with his pistol, drove the frightened Chinamen to work digging for the poor fellows. They were all dead except one when dug out. He was in a steam of sweat. His first words were brief, and expressed his impressions—"Too muchee hot," he said, and prepared to follow his pugnacious companions away from the tabooed section of the road. Yet John is a good and faithful workman, and without him the work would make but little progress.

Death of Rev. Jonas Mechling.

On Thursday evening, the 2d inst., Rev. Jonas Mechling, of the German Lutheran Church, died at his residence, in Greensburg, Westmoreland county, at the advanced age of sixty-nine years. His funeral took place on Sunday forenoon. The remains were removed to the German Church in Greensburg, where funeral discourses were delivered by Rev. N. P. Hacke, in German, and Rev. W. A. Passavant in English. The deceased kept a record of his ministerial services extending over a period of half a century, extracts from which were read by Rev. Passavant. The deceased was born in Hempfield township, Westmoreland county, August 14th, 1798. His parents were Philip J. and Catharine Mechling. He says in his record: "On the 20th of June, 1819, I was confirmed by Rev. J. M. Steck, Sr., pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Greensburg, and on the 21st I communed for the first time. This important period of my life I shall ever remember with pleasure and gratitude to God, through whose goodness it was a season of unspeakable and refreshing pleasure to me. Oh, that all ministers would take the time and care which my faithful pastor took to instruct the young." At an early age he devoted his time to the study of theology under Rev. J. Schnee, and completed it under Rev. J. M. Steck. He preached his first sermon March 14th, 1819, being somewhat under twenty years of age, and September 19th, 1820, was licensed by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Ohio, convened at Zanesville. He then took charge of the following congregations in Westmoreland county: Haukies, Jakies and Salem, north of Greensburg; Barren Run, Swopes, St. Johns, Donegal, Ligonier and Indian Creek, south and west of Greensburg. Although very remote from each other, he served these congregations successfully and faithfully until 1830, when he resigned those north of Greensburg. In 1827 Youngstown and St. Pauls (Ridge) were added to his charge. He preached his first sermon in Weston in August, 1829, and in 1832 organized a congregation there. He was now serving nine charges, preaching frequently three and four times on Sundays, besides holding services during the week. Meanwhile (October 2d, 1822,) he was united in marriage with Florinda Gressinger, and two years afterwards was ordained by the Synod at Canton, Ohio. He continued to serve the nine congregations mentioned for twenty-one years, except West Newton, which he served eighteen years. In 1848 he accepted a call to the Greensburg charge, embracing four congregations, and entered upon his duties there in October of that year, removing to Greensburg in April of the following year. Four of his former congregations, not being able to secure a pastor, he continued to serve them in connection with his new charges. In 1855 he resigned the St. Johns and Swopes congregations of his charge, having served them from their organization, a period of thirty-three years. In the same year he also preached his valedictory sermon in the Ridge congregation, having been its Pastor for twenty-eight years. In 1848, he resigned the Youngstown congregation, in which he had labored for thirty-one years with remarkable success. Five flourishing charges have been formed out of the territory he occupied for so many years. Although after 1858 he retained none of his earlier congregations, he still served five, having organized a new one called Hills, north of Greensburg; but the infirmities of age compelled him to resign the latter until a year or two since. He labored on to the last. But five weeks since he preached from the pulpit of the church to which his remains were taken. During the half century of his official life he preached 6,327 sermons, (not including funeral sermons,) baptized 6,286 persons, confirmed 2,039, and married 870 couples. Faithful to the end of his work of the Church, he was also faithful to his family and society. He lived in blessed and happy union with his dear wife (as he writes in his last annual summary of his ministerial acts) for a period of forty-five years. This union was blessed with eleven children—six sons and five daughters—four of whom, three daughters and one son, have preceded him to eternity. One son, whom he educated for the purpose, has been laboring in the ministry for ten years. He leaves his wife, five sons and two daughters and thirteen grand children. His illness was brief but severe, and he expired within a few miles of his birthplace.

The church during the funeral service was crowded to its utmost capacity, and at the close all were afforded opportunity to take a last look at the devoted and beloved departed minister. The remains were interred in the German burving ground, a large procession following to the grave.

Aquatic—Letter from Coulter.

As the season advances the boating fever gradually increases, and the prospects at present are that by the time it is really opened it will have assumed the form of an epidemic. The latest relative to the subject is a letter from Harry Coulter, the Manchester oarsman, to the Sunday Leader, which explains itself. Mr. Coulter says:

"In answer to Mr. Hamill's reply to my late challenge, I will merely state that as he has of late taken such a dislike to row at Pittsburgh, which was always his favorite place when contending with other oarsmen, strangers to the course, that I will row him a five-mile race for the sum which he proposes in his "defi" on any course which he may select between Brownsville, on the Monongahela river, and Wheeling, on the Ohio river, being about one hundred and fifty miles apart. This, I think, ought to suit Mr. Hamill, if he means business—not talk. The idea of him wanting to take the race to a strange course, and at such a great distance from home would strike one at the first view that he wants it to take place there entirely from a lucrative motive. If the race shall take place at any point between the above named places, it will give our friends and backers an opportunity of witnessing the contest, and of judging of our respective merits as oarsmen. On these terms, and these only, will I meet him in a friendly contest. If, Shylock like, he still persists in rowing on east, it will show a want of confidence in his own ability to sustain the proud title of champion oarsman of the United States. An answer to this from Mr. Hamill, in next week's issue of the Leader, will be thankfully received. If I receive no answer from him in your next, I shall consider that he has forfeited all claims to the aforesaid championship, and shall act accordingly.

Yours, respectfully,
H. COULTER.

P. S.—I would like Mr. Hamill to come out in a card in the Leader and give his reasons to the public for not rowing at or about Pittsburgh, as I myself know his reasons for taking the race to Springfield.

MANCHESTER, April 4, 1868. H. C.

In justice to Jimmy Hamill it must be stated that he proposes to row with anybody on neutral waters, and that his determination not to again row here at Pittsburgh was proclaimed long before a match was ever thought of between Coulter and himself. Doubtless Jimmy will reconsider the matter and come to time on the last "defi." We agree with the Dispatch that a match should be arranged between Hamill, Coulter and Brown, all to start together on a good, broad course, and the winning man to be regarded as fairly entitled to the championship of America.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

In the bankruptcy branch of the Court, on Saturday, a final discharge was granted to Benjamin F. Haines, Benjamin C. London, James A. Shearer and Edwin R. Sheppard, all of Luzerne county. John McClung, of Pittsburgh, filed a petition for adjudication in bankruptcy. The usual order was made.

Court adjourned.

District Court—Judges Hampton and Williams.

In the case of A. J. Erickson vs H. M. Oppenheimer & Co., defendants' counsel moved for an arrest of judgment and for a new trial, and filed their reasons therefor.

In the matter of making new indexes of deeds in the Recorder's office of Allegheny county, the following order was made:

And now, April 4, 1868, in pursuance of the provisions of an act of Assembly, approved the 30th day of March, A. D. 1868, authorizing the making of new indexes of the records contained in the deed-books in the Recorder's office of Allegheny county, and regulating the manner in which the same shall hereafter be kept, it is ordered and directed that new indexes direct, and ad sectum, of the records contained in the deed-books in the Recorder's office, be made in accordance with the provisions of said act; and is further ordered and directed that B. F. Lucas, S. H. Geyer and George P. Shiras, Esqs., shall be and are hereby appointed a commission to contract with one or more persons for the making of said indexes, and when such contract shall have been made to report the same with the names of the contractors, and the terms of the contract to the Court for approval.

Per Curiam.

No other business of any consequence was transacted. Court adjourned until Monday morning.

The following is the trial list for to-day:

90. Washington vs. Bell.
92. Wildes vs. Trainer et al.
94. Sorg vs. First G. U. E. Church of Birmingham.
95. Kerr et al. vs. Verner.
96. Kirkland vs. Gill.
97. Douglass vs. Scott et al.
98. Bennet vs. Stamm & Rhodes.
99. Martin, Oliver & Brickell vs. Coleman, June & Co.

Criminal Court—Full Bench.

At the recent elections held in Wilkins township and East Birmingham two sets of School Directors claim to have been elected. When this fact became known petitions were at once presented in the Court of Quarter Sessions by the parties claiming to have been fairly elected, asking that the Court fix a day for an investigation of the matter. Saturday last was the day set, but the examination was carried over until next Saturday.

SENTENCES.

John Wishberger plead guilty to a charge of fornication and bastardy, on oath of Catharine Foltz. The Court sentenced him to pay a fine of twenty dollars to the Guardians of the Poor, seventy dollars to the defendant to defray the expense of the child since its birth, eight dollars a month for five years, and the costs of prosecution.

Daniel Gordon, John Henry Clark and Joseph Fisher, colored men, implicated in the shooting affray, which occurred on West street, Allegheny, in which Alfred and John Gabby, white men, were shot, were called up for sentence. They were tried on three indictments and found guilty of simple assault and battery and of felonious assault. Motion for a new trial was made, but overruled by the court. Judge Mellon in pronouncing sentence, said it appeared that Fisher was the moving spirit in the affray and a severe sentence would be passed upon him, Clark and Gordon had shown previous good characters, and their sentence would be lighter. He hoped the punishment would prove a warning to them. Fisher was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars on the first charge, and on the second to pay a like amount and to undergo two years' imprisonment in the Western Peitentientiary. Gordon was sentenced to a fine of five dollars on the first charge, and on the second to an imprisonment of four months in jail. Clark was sentenced to pay a similar fine on the first charge, and on the second to three months' imprisonment in jail.

Cornelius Jordan, who plead guilty to two indictments for forgery, in which Levi Rush was prosecutor, was then called up. The Court granted him permission to make a statement, in which he said he had not the slightest idea of what prompted him to commit the forgeries. He was only indebted to the landlord of the Rush House to the amount of twenty-five dollars, and why he should forge checks for over two hundred dollars was a mystery to him. He was sick at the time, and it might have been that while deploring his condition—sick and without money or friends,—he committed the offense without thinking.

The story had but little effect with the Court. Mr. Morrison, counsel for the prisoner, read the affidavits of several persons in New York city (where Jordon belongs,) who speak well of his previous good character. For the purpose of producing other testimony regarding the character of the defendant, sentence was deferred, and the prisoner remanded.

August Danner and Michael Schultz were next arraigned for sentence. The parties were convicted of aggravated and simple assault and battery upon John Myer. There were two indictments against each defendant. Danner was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs on each charge. Shultz on the indictment charging him with simple assault was sentenced to pay a fine of thirty dollars and costs, and on the charge of aggravated assault a fine of one hundred dollars and costs.

A hearing then took place in the case of John Watson against John Patterson charged with a breach of the peace. The parties are brothers-in-law, and it appears that some time ago both desired to buy the same lot situated in East Liberty. Negotiations were at once made for the lot, but Watson succeeded in effecting a purchase. Considerable ill-feeling exists between the parties in regard to the transaction, and it is alleged that Patterson threatened to destroy by fire the buildings on the property. The case was fully heard but the Court made no order.

Court adjourned until Monday morning.

Common Pleas—Full Bench.

In the case of M. Swartzwelder and John Rooney vs. Geo. E. Shaw, on motion, the order granted March 28th, 1868, on the Sheriff to pay the proceeds realized from the sale of personal property of defendant into Court was rescinded.

In the case of Atkinson & Bro. vs. McClurg, motion for new trial was made and reason for same filed.

James Logan vs. Wm. B. Hayes. Judgment opened and defendant allowed ten days to file an affidavit of defense.

Wm. McClure vs. Thomas Smith et al. Decree made finding amount due plaintiff by defendant $92 83.

In the matter of the voluntary assignment of Brewer, Burke & Co. Petition presented and prayer granted.

THE CONTEMPT CASE.

William Lindsey, against whom a rule was granted some time ago for contempt of Court, was then called up. A hearing, it will be remembered, took place in the case on Saturday, the 28th of March, but the Court reserved their decision until Saturday. Lindsey was charged with tampering with a juror in a case wherein he was plaintiff, and Thomas Lindsey defendant. Judge Stowe, in referring to the case, said that the Court would be compelled to discharge the rule for want of authority to impose a fine or imprisonment on the party on whom it was granted. The act of Assembly in relation to contemptuous acts held that the offense must be committed in the presence of the Judges, hence it was not within the reach of the Court in this case to inflict a fine or imprisonment, the offense having been committed outside of the Court. Notwithstanding the fact that the Court was barred from imposing punishment in the case, it was nevertheless contempt, but the only way to reach the defendant was by bringing the matter before the Grand Jury. If indicted he would then be tried by a jury, and if convicted the Court would have the opportunity of passing judgment.

When the motion pending for a new trial in the case came up for argument, His Honor remarked, the contempt case would be fully considered, and if evidence sufficient was adduced the matter would then be brought before the Grand Jury for their consideration. In the meantime the rule is discharged and the defendant released.

Court then adjourned until Monday morning.

The following is the trial list for to-day:

No. 30. Peeples et al. vs. McCune.
No. 35. Burton vs. Kestner et ux.
No. 41. Knox vs. Duncan.
No. 42. Parker & Bro. vs. Lafferty.
No. 54. Scott vs. Grafton & Noble.
No. 60. Lewis vs. McCogney.
No. 65. Union Iron Mills vs. Foster.
No. 84. Jacobs vs. Hanna, Hart & Co.
No. 92. Short vs. Stevenson.
No. 93. Wallace et al. vs. Schulz, Son & Company.
No. 97. Ihmsen & Sons vs. Albertson.

Grant Club of New Brighton and Vicinity.

At a meeting of the Grant Club of New Brighton and vicinity, held at Capt. Boyle's rooms, in New Brighton, on the evening of March 31, for the purpose of perfecting an organization, the following officers were elected:

President—Dr. David Stanton.

Vice Presidents—First ward, Geo. S. Barker, C. K. Chamberlain; Second ward, John C. Boyle, J. S. Winans; Third ward, Chas. Messick, John Pugh; Falston, E. G. Evans, Henry Lloyd; Beaver Falls, H. C. Patterson, Chamberlain White.

Secretary—E. A. Noble; Assistant, J. F. Price.

Corresponding Secretary—G. L. Eberhart.

Treasurer—R. E. Hoops.

The Committee on Resolutions reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, We are about entering upon another Presidential campaign,

1. Resolved, That we recognize but two parties engaged in the canvass, viz.: the Republican party, based upon the eternal principles of humanity, justice and equal rights, and the so-called and mis-called Democratic party, the characteristic principles of which appear to be their innate craving for the pelf and plunder of office, their devoted reverence for "the lost cause," their undying hatred of the negro race, and their new dogma of the repudiation of the national debt.

2. That as the rebellion was the legitimate offspring of slavery and treason, and its suppression a holy work wrought by the aid of Providence, it behooves us as conservators of the great good purchased by the blood of our country's bravest sons, to watch that it be not frittered away by corrupt or futile legislation.

3. That as we have abiding faith in our country's honor, we have no fear that she will ever, in any manner, repudiate the national debt.

4. That as we believe, in the language of Andrew Johnson, that "traitors should be punished," the Senate of the United States should lose no time in deposing the man who has shown himself so base a traitor to his country and the principles upon which he was elected Vice President.

5. That the fearless, energetic and conscientious discharge of duty manifested by Edwin M. Stanton, gives evidence of a disinterested patriotism rarely shown in the annals of history.

6. That as General U. S. Grant was the great spirit in bringing the rebellion to a close, he should continue to act as the leader in the great work of reconstruction, and he is therefore our choice for the next Presidency.

7. That for Vice President our choice would be a man of sterling integrity and undoubted patriotism, whose election would furnish to the assassin no inducement for the murder of the President.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The inimitable Lotta concluded an engagement of two weeks at the Opera House, Saturday, which was by far the most successful of the season, and she would have drawn full houses for a month longer. To-night the "Dream at Sea" will be presented, with the "Spectre Bridegroom" as an after piece. Tuesday evening Mr. Mark Bates takes a benefit.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Fred Aims, the Manager of the Pittsburgh Theatre, is determined to make the Theatre Comique a success, and it is gratifying to know that his liberality and endeavors to please the public are fully appreciated and properly rewarded by a liberal patronage. He announces two new and special attrastions this week. Mons. Leveni, who performs the wonderful feat of limping from the third tier to the stage, and Louisa froheur, the beautiful premier danseuse.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Miss Emma Fellman takes a benefit at the German Theatre at the Academy of Music to-night, when "The Jesuit and his Pupil" will be presented, with Mr. Zerboni and Miss Fellmann in the title roles. It is a French comedy, full of intrigues, comical situations and laughable incidents, in the development of which Miss Fellmann is without an equal. She has but recently filled an engagement in New York, where this piece was presented with complete success.

Worth Visiting.

This is the day announced for the grand opening of the grandest Jewelry Store in the West. Without their authority we venture to pronounce that the proprietors, Messrs. Reineman, Meyran & Seidle, will welcome and courteously treat all who may call, if it is only to see and admire their magnificent stock of goods—displayed as goods were never before displayed in Pittsburgh, in cases and upon shelves, we will not say of oriental, but of the highest styles of modern art. The casings which adorn the walls are of exquisite design, and finish arches of massive mouldings, surmounted by bronzed statuettes, supported on columns decorated with bas-relief tracery—and then a double line of plate glass show cases, with silver trimmings, and all these filled with an endless variety of ware, elegant and costly, as well as plain and cheap. We share in the common pride of the citizens in possessing an establishment like this, challenging a comparison with any in the whole country, and also in the hope that the liberality and taste of the proprietors will be abundantly rewarded.

Accident.

A little boy, son of Jacob Snyder, residing on Harmony street, East Birmingham, was severely injured Friday evening, by being knocked down and run over by a beer wagon. The boy, with several companions, was at play on Carson street, and in attempting to cross in front of the wagon, which was apparently driven at a rapid rate, was struck by the horse, knocked down and run over. His left ankle was severely sprained and considerably bruised, but fortunately no bones were broken. He was carried to the residence of his parents where his injuries received the proper surgical attention.

False Pretence.—F. Rosenfeldt made information before Mayor Drum Saturday, charging John Smith with obtaining money and goods under false pretence. He alleges that Smith came to his house in the Sixth ward, Allegheny, and by certain false representations obtained five dollars in money and a cloth cloak valued at thirty dollars. Smith was arrested and held to bail to answer at Court.

A Desperate Man.

An incident occurred on Fourth street on Saturday afternoon, which, for a time, created quite an excitement, and had a very strong appearance of ending in a tragedy, which, however, was prevented by the timely interference of officer McKelvey. It appears that Mrs. Anna C. Miller has instituted proceedings against her husband, Sands Miller, for the purpose of obtaining a divorce a mensa et toro, or a separate maintenance. The husband, it is alleged, s endeavoring to compromise the affair, and if possible induce his wife to relinquish her purposes, in consequence of which he has made several endeavors to obtain an interview, but without success. Saturday he met her on Fourth street, near Alderman Humbert's office, and demanded an interview. The lady declined to favor him a private interview but said she would accompany him to her lawyer's office where they could arrange matters satisfactorily. He refused to accede to the proposition, and requested her to accompany him to his room at the St. Charles Hotel, which she flatly refused to do. The man had evidently been drinking liquor, from the effects of which, in connection with his failure to obtain an interview, he became desperate, and thrusting his hand in his pocket drew a pistol with which he struck at her head. Fortunately the lady had been closely watching his movements, and when he struck she stepped to one side and avoided the blow. He then drew the pistol as though he intended to shoot her, when she screamed and ran into Alderman Humbert's office. Officer M'Kelvey hearing her cries ran to the door, when he met Miller and arrested him, and taking him to the back office disarmed him. Mrs. M. made information, charging him with felonious assault, upon which charge the Alderman held him to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars to answer at Court.

On the Muscle.

From the number of aspirants for pugilistic notoriety, in the usually quiet city of Allegheny, we are led to believe that our neighbors on that side of the river are becoming slightly demoralized, and were it not for the rigor and strict enforcement of the wholesome laws by Mayor Drum, "bravos" would soon be as numerous as corner loafers are in Pittsburgh. Friday evening a regular "mill" took place on the North Common, between two young men, and had progressed to the third or fourth round when the police interfered, and put an end to the sport. The principals were arrested and taken to the Mayor's office, and required to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs each, which ended the affair. This was not the only "mill," however, which took place during the day, the participants in which received a like rebuke. Saturday afternoon two men named Smith and McKnight met in McDonald's tavern, on Federal street, where after taking several drinks they became involved in a quarrel which ended in a fight. After they had succeeded in punishing each other severely, the police stepped in and took them in charge. They were conducted to the Mayor's office and required to pay a fine of five dollars and costs each, after which they were discharged.

Alleged Larceny of $200—The Accused Committed for Trial.

Catherine Salzman, the proprietress of a tavern in East Birmingham, made information before Justice Ammon, on Saturday, charging John Schafer and Tom Brawdy with larceny. She alleges that the accused, who frequented her house, and were well acquainted with its arrangement, came in to the bar-room Saturday morning and remained until she was called out, when they entered an adjoining room and took two hundred dollars from a bureau drawer. Brawdy and Schafer were arrested, and after a hearing, were committed for trial in default of five hundred dollars each for their appearance at Court. The Brawdy family are becoming quite notorious in criminal affairs. The mother was, a short time since, convicted on a charge of keeping a bawdy house, for which she is serving a term of imprisonment. Subsequently a son was arrested and committed to jail to await trial on a similar charge, and now the third one of the family is committed on a charge of larceny.

Aggravated Assault and Battery.

John Blackburn, a dairyman, residing at Nine Mile Run, on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, made information before Deputy Mayor Owston, on Saturday, charging Henry Davie with aggravated assault and battery. It appears from Blackburn's statement that he has been supplying Davie, who resides at Soho, with milk, and in consequence of his neglect to pay for the same, refused to give him any more until the old score was settled. Saturday morning, when on his way to the city, he met Davie at Moorhead's Mill, near Soho, where an altercation ensued, the result of which was that Davie bit a portion of Blackburn's lip off. He also threatened to take his life, for which an information for surety of the peace was made. Davie was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at Court.

Difficulty on a Street Car.

Yesterday afternoon a difficulty occurred on car No. 9, on the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Passenger Railway, between the conductor, Mr. Roenstein and Henry McSwiggin, Jacob Garlogh and John Jones, who, it appears, were acting in a disorderly manner on the cars, and were put off on the Monongahela bridge. They followed the car to the station on Smithfield street, where they attempted to incite the conductor to a quarrel, in which they failed, however. They then swore he should not take the car out. He went to the Mayor's office and informed the police, and the parties were arrested and taken before Alderman Butler, Deputy Mayor, who held them on their own recognizance in the sum of three hundred dollars each for their appearance this morning, when an information will be made against them for surety of the peace.

OFFICE PITTSBURGH CLOAK HOUSE.

MESSRS. CARSON BROS. 49 ST. CLAIR STREET—Gents: Having had the Empire Sewing Machine in use for some time we pronounce it the head and front of all other machines now in use. Since the special introduction of the cloak trade in Pittsburgh we have had the Singer Machine, which, after a fair test, we pronounce a moiety in comparison with the Empire, and in lieu thereof we heartily recommend the Empire to every lady or head of a family wanting a good, substantial, and at the same time the only fit Sewing Machine now offered for public favor.

Yours, respectfully,
SPENCE BROTHERS,
No. 73 Market street.

We ask attention to the card of Jacob Weaver, Jr., & Co., Oil Commission Jobbers, No. 3 Duquesne Way. Mr. Weaver was among the first who embarked in this trade, and during '61 and '62 introduced and transacted a very heavy trade. These gentlemen propose attending to their business in such a manner as to secure for themselves a large share of public patronage.

City Councils.—A regular meeting of the City Councils will be held at two o'clock, P. M., to-day. The meeting will doubtless be an unusually interesting one, as the Mayor's veto of the ordinance providing for the widening of the sidewalks on Fifth street will be presented to Councils.

Passed Through.—Lieut. Gen. W. T. Sherman passed through the city on Saturday en route from Chicago to Washington City.

An Insane Gymnast.

A dispatch from Harrisburg states that Thomas Hanlon, the gymnast, who fell from a trapeze in Cincinnati recently, is in the State Capital, with two little boys of the troupe. Hanlon is hopelessly insane, and made desperate efforts to kill the boys and commit suicide. After a terrible struggle he was mastered and bound, but not until he had been greatly weakened by loss of blood, caused by pounding his head against the walls, etc. It was feared on Saturday that Hanlon would not live. It is supposed by physicians that an injury from the fall at Cincinnati is the immediate cause of the insanity.

—Since the above was written we learn the unfortunate man died yesterday morning. His brother took the remains to New York for interment.

The Coal Miners' Riot—Additional Arrests.

It is the intention of the authorities, we believe, to have a thorough investigation of the Pine Run riot case, and, if possible, to bring those who participated in it to justice. Information has been made against all who participated in the affair, so far as they are known, and warrants issued for their arrest. Officers Wilson and Noble, on Saturday, arrested, at McKeesport, John and Jonathan Starkley and brought them to the lock-up, where they remain awaiting a hearing. No further trouble is anticipated, and no demonstrations have been made since our last report of the affair.

Assault and Battery and Malicious Mischief.

Mrs. Baldoff, proprietor of a grocery store in the Ninth ward, made information before the Mayor, charging Henry Shannon with assault and battery and malicious mischief. She alleges that Shannon came into her store on Saturday morning in a drunken condition, and, without provocation, struck her with his fist, after which he seized a clock, which was sitting on the mantle, and threw it at her, literally demolishing it. He was arrested and held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars to answer at Court.

The Lawrenceville Gas Difficulty.—We stated several days since that Mr. Shutterly had made information before Alderman Strain, charging the agents of the Pittsburgh Gas Company with tresspass and declaring them to be a common nuisance. The defendants appeared before the Alderman on Saturday and waving a hearing gave bail for their appearance at Court. The counsel for the prosecution announced their intention of applying for an injunction to restrain the Pittsburgh Gas Company from further operations.

Wife Desertion.—George Lloyd, charged on oath of his wife, Martha Lloyd, before Alderman McMasters, with abandonment, was arrested Saturday, and after a hearing committed to jail in default of the required bail for his appearance at Court.

Board of Control.—A regular monthly meeting of the Board of School Controllers of Allegheny City will be held to-morrow (Tuesday) evening, in the Common Council chamber, Allegheny City, at half-past seven o'clock.

Another Sample Case.—William Pine was arrested by officer Grover, on Saturday, for selling goods by sample. He represents a New York firm, and was selling woolen goods by card. He will have a hearing to-day.

Surety of the Peace.—Michael Conlon made information before Alderman Taylor, Saturday, against Samuel Saddler, for surety of the peace: Saddler was arrested and held for a hearing.

CITY ITEMS.

The Family Favorite.—The Weed Sewing Machine is, without doubt, the best for family use; because it is the simplest in construction, best made, easiest to learn, and least liable to get out of order. It makes the lock-stitch, and is guaranteed to do a greater range of work without change than any other in the market. We have tried it, and are well satisfied with it; so much so, in fact, that we would not exchange for any other. Call and see it at No, 112 Grant street.
